

Fire Guts Jefferson County Home; Remains Found

POSTED: 1:18 pm EDT July 13, 2007

UPDATED: 1:51 pm EDT July 13, 2007

SYKESVILLE, Pa. -- New details were released in a Thursday morning fire that gutted a home in Sykesville, Jefferson County.

Friday, officials said they found the remains of what they believed was a baby in the wreckage.

Police are still looking for the woman who rented the home.

Police said Joey Lynn Offutt, 33, is 5 feet 3 inches tall, thin, with brown hair and eyes. She may be driving a red 1994 Saturn Coupe with Virginia license plate number JXN8871. Police said there is visible damage to the front part of the hood.

Police declared Offutt a missing person.

Anyone with information is being asked to call DuBois State police at 814-371-4652.

Copyright 2007 by WJACTV.com. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.